Are you shovel ready?

“$12 Billion for Infrastructure Projects”

In the 2009 Federal Budget, there are funds earmarked to be shared among organizations like yours ...if you can prove you are “shovel ready.”

Altus Group Infrastructure

- Does your organization have what it takes to put an accurate strategy in place for your planned projects?
- Do you have the ability to deliver a best-practice plan?
- Can you determine accurate staffing requirements to ensure that you have the right people and right skill sets for your projects?
- Do you have a risk management plan in place in order to minimize your organization's risk?

If these questions raise concerns and you want to increase your eligibility for a piece of the $12 billion pie, Altus Group can help. Our strategic planners and professional consultants can help organize your planning well before project execution. We secure your competitive edge in refining your project plan, RFP responses and presentations.

Altus Group Infrastructure has a tried and tested rapid planning strategy to accelerate your projects to “shovel-ready” status. We use agile, collaborative and responsive techniques to help your team define the scope, the cost and the deliverables on those promised projects. Why put your projects at risk?
